Session Information

Newborn sessions are conducted at your home and are ideal between 4-10 days of age. It is a good idea to book your session while still pregnant in order to schedule a tentative appointment week. Then, once the baby has arrived, call to schedule your final date. Newborn sessions run between 2-4 hours. Extra time is often needed for these sessions because brand new babies need lots of attention for things other than photography! Your session will result in 20 of the best images. All sessions will be given a print release for digital images which allows you to print your images at your convenience. Sarah Marney Photography holds the copyrights to those images. I will treat your baby as my own. I look forward to meeting your precious one!!!
